

About the EMORY AUTISM CENTER

The Emory Autism Center (EAC) is part of the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Emory University School of Medicine. The EAC opened in 1991 as a public, private, and university collaboration. EAC is a national model for diagnosis, family support, and innovative behavioral Intervention, as well as a vital source of professional training.

The mission of the EAC is to be a valued resource for people with ASD, their families, professionals, and others from the earliest signs of ASD throughout the lifespan by providing affordable, accessible, evidence-based, and useful support to each person we serve, and by increasing capacity for support within local communities across Georgia.
