

The GA Parent Mentor Partnership 2014 Annual Kickoff Conference

September 10-12

Pre-Conference Session Announcement

Academic Parent Teacher Teams

An innovative approach to family engagement, the Academic Parent-Teacher Teams (APTT) provides schools with a developmental and collaborative process to build effective partnerships. This pre-conference session will provide Parent Mentors with information and strategies to assist teachers and parents in building family capacity as it ties to academics through the APTT Model. Participants will walk away with greater knowledge about family engagement, the Academic Parent Teacher Team Model, and specific ways Parent Mentors can assist teachers and families with the academic success of students including students with disabilities.

Navigating the C's to Graduation

Navigating the seas can be stormy for students with disabilities and their families as they prepare to graduate. How do some systems prepare for the storms that are on the radar as well as those that suddenly pop up? Communication that is clear, timely and supportive is critical especially during the stormy challenges of graduation for these students. Easy to implement activities and tips will be shared to engage teams, students and families on their journey of navigating successful graduation outcomes!
