You should develop a set of house rules to share with your support workers. Have them sign a statement that says, “I have read the hours rules and I understand them.” Here is a same list of house rules that you might consider.

On time and ready to work. You are expected to arrive at my home and be prepared to work at least by the time the shift begins.

Absences. You are expected to come to work when you are scheduled to work. Not coming to work and not calling me to make arrangements more than once can result in termination. Too many absences may be grounds for termination.

Tardiness. If you are going to be more than 15 minutes late getting to my home, you need to call and let me know. The time you write on the timesheet must be the actual time you worked. Being tardy without calling me or being tardy too many times may be grounds for termination.

Illness. If you are ill the day you are scheduled to work, you must notify me immediately. As the employer, I may contact you to cover another staff person’s shift if he or she is ill.

Trading shifts. It is not acceptable to trade shifts. This should only be handled by the employer who is tracking the number of hours worked by each employee. If you know another staff person is available and willing to cover the time period, you can share this information with the employer.

Dress code. You should be dressed so you can do the tasks assigned to you. This means that you should wear comfortable clothing and shoes. You should not wear torn shirts or shirts with improper images. Pants should fit properly and not hang down or be too baggy or tight. Shorts and skirts should not be too short.

Cleanliness. You should be clean and smell clean. You should wear hair in a way that it will not interfere with your duties. You may not wear perfume or cologne.

Alcohol and drugs. Drinking alcohol or taking illegal drugs is not permitted in my home. Showing up for work drunk or high is not permitted. Drinking alcohol, taking illegal drugs, and showing up for work intoxicated from alcohol or drugs are grounds for termination.

Criminal activity. Any criminal activity is not permitted in my home. Any involvement in criminal activity is grounds for termination of employment.

Time logs. Each worker signs in on each shift and signs out at the end of each shift. You should sign in and out in front of me. Be aware that the state of Georgia and Medicaid can charge a service provider with fraud if the agency or individual charges for work that was not completed.

Record daily activities. You must record daily activities in the daily activities notebook. Please keep timesheets in the notebook.
Daily activities notebook. Keep notebooks positive and objective, and do not include negative comments concerning me or other staff. Notebooks need to be restricted to information necessary for consistent support.

Behavior.
* Staff should not talk about each other in front of me.
* If I express a concern about another staff, please tell me to speak with the person involved, my support coordinator, or a family member.
* If you have a concern about another staff, please address your concerns to me in an objective manner, remaining as positive as possible.
* Please avoid gossiping or complaining about other staff.
* Please address your concerns to me, not to other staff.

Smoking. Smoking is not permitted in my home or in my car. You may smoke outside. Please dispose of your cigarette butts in the can outside the door.

Meals. Meals are not provided. If you would like to bring your dinner, you may keep it in the refrigerator and warm it in the microwave or oven. I can provide water to drink. If you prefer something else to drink, please bring it with you. Please take any food with you that belongs to you at the end of your shift. You are responsible for clean-up.

Using my phone. You must ask me for permission before using my phone for personal calls. You may receive personal calls in the case of an emergency. You cannot accept phone calls while performing your duties. Absolutely no long-distance calls can be made on my phone. Making long-distance phone calls on my phone is grounds for termination.

Using my personal property. You may not use any of my personal property for your personal use (example: washer and dryer, CD player, stereo, computer, phone, and car). That is grounds for termination.

Using computers. You may not use my computer for your personal use. You are not allowed to bring your personal computer to work. You are here to work for me, and I expect your individual attention.

Using your personal phone. You cannot use your cell phone during your work time unless there is an emergency.

Borrowing money. You are not to ask to borrow money from me. That is grounds for termination. You should not loan me money or have me write checks to you if you buy something for me. If you are buying something at the store for me, it is best to have me write a check to the store. Any checks on my account written to my staff can be suspected of fraud.

Entertainment expenses. You decide if you want to pay for staff’s admission fees for community activities.
Friends and family. You should not bring friends, boyfriends, girlfriends, spouses, significant others, or family members to work. You are here to work for me, and I expect your individual attention.

Children. Your child (ren) may accompany you to work only under the following conditions: (a) you have no options for day care, (b) you have notified me prior to bringing them, and (c) if they become a problem, you must make other arrangements immediately or contact another staff person to work your hours.

Payments for gas. I do not pay for gas. If you work for an agency service provider, the agency will pay you for mileage. If you are an independent service provider, you can keep track of your mileage and use it for a tax deduction at the end of the year.

Confidentiality. All issues related to me are to be handled in a confidential manner. Do not discuss my affairs with anyone without my consent. Staff may share with each other only that information needed to carry out their duties and training activities on a need-to-know basis. Breaking confidentiality may be grounds for termination.

I have read the House Rules and agree to follow them.

TRAINING LOG
Health and educational information is protected by law. Confidentiality is a serious matter.

We want to respect the PRIVACY of people we are supporting.

We want to build TRUST with the person, their family, and the community.

We are trying to BUILD RELATIONSHIPS.

What does CONFIDENTIALITY mean?
* Containing information, the unauthorized disclosure of which can pose a threat or harm to another.

* Entrusted with the confidence of another, indicating confidence and intimacy.

It may seem harmless, but what people share with you is THEIR business so unless there is DANGER in not sharing, you should keep information to yourself.

If you are unsure what should be kept quiet, you should always error on the side of caution. When people share confidences with you, it is a sign of trust and respect. It is easier to lose trust than it is to gain it.

Think while you are Listening....Is this information:
   Something I need to know?
   Something I need to share?
   Making me uncomfortable?
   Something I have permission to know?
   Something I need to say?
   Something I need to tell?
   Something I have permission to share with others?

Monthly Calendars are a good way to have the big picture look at your schedule. You can color code each staff member’s name, hours, and the service that they delivered. You can also mark down key dates, like “time sheets due.”

One parent gave the tip that she keeps the monthly schedule on their refrigerator so that everyone can see it and have a reminder.
Goal (A) ____________ will demonstrate appropriate social skills in all environments.

1. ____________ will participate in group discussions about social skills (interpreting people facial expressions, spitting frequently, and respecting other people speech patterns/words) instructions and role play by personal support aides. Goal will be met when decreases spitting frequency to 4x per hour daily for 6 consecutive months. (3x weekly)

Goals and objectives should be written so that they are measurable. It is important to have a goal for each of the services that the person is receiving. Some sample goals that were shared by different families include the following:

Community Access Individual:
  Mary Anne will participate in recreational activities of her choice 1x per month.

Community Living:
  With physical assistance from staff, Mary Anne will help prepare a meal 1x per week.
  With physical assistance from staff, Mary Anne will learn to do household chores (cleaning or laundry) 1x per week.

Specialized Medical Supplies:
  With physical assistance from staff, Mary Anne will maintain good hygiene related to eating, bathing and toileting.

Community Access Group:
  Mary Anne will participate in recreational activities in a group setting in the community.

Goal B: Brandon will demonstrate emotional growth and stability.

Objective 1: Brandon will recognize his feelings of frustration independently and in a positive manner will choose a calming activity and ask to take a break. Goal will be met when Brandon independently calms himself for six consecutive months (track 7 x weekly).

Goal C: Brandon will demonstrate marketable job skills.

Objective 1: Brandon will maintain a professional appearance and attitude when working as evidenced by staying focused on his job task and by showing respect to co-workers and by following work place rules. Staff will use social stories, role play, and video tapes as a way to help Brandon see his interactions. Goal will be met when Brandon demonstrates a professional appearance and attitude four times weekly for 12 consecutive months.
The Communication Log can be a spiral notebook. It should be kept in an easy to access location where staff can take a few minutes to write notes back and forth to each other. This log helps with the continuity of support. It can alert a staff person coming to work what has been happening earlier that day. It should become a habit for staff to write in and read the Communication log.

COMMUNICATION LOG

SAMPLE COMMUNICATION ENTRY

August 30, 2009  Arrived at work at 10:00 and Sam seemed quiet and not as active as usual. He didn’t want lunch and complained that his stomach hurt. Was able to get him to drink some fruit juice. Around 3:00 he spent about 30 minutes in the bathroom and said he had “pooped.” Seemed to be feeling better afterwards. Marsha Reed

August 30, 2009  When I came in at 6:00, Sam was really hungry. He kept going to the refrigerator wanting snacks. I gave him the choice of eating earlier since he hadn’t eaten much at lunch. I also tried to make sure that he drank more fluids this evening. He ate well at suppertime after choosing left over pot roast for his dinner. Cindy Smith
